CONSTITUTION
GENERAL SOCIETY OF THE WAR OF 1812.

INSTITUTED 1854, AT PHILADELPHIA, PA.

PHILADELPHIA:
Dewey & Lukins, Printers, 35 North Seventh Street
1892.

ARTICLE III.

MEMBERS.

SECTION 1.—Any male person above the age of twenty-one years shall be eligible to membership in this Society, who participated or who is a lineal descendant of one who served in the War of 1812, either in the army, navy, or privateer services of the Union, and who may be approved by the Society or its Board of Direction.

SEC. 2.—No service of an ancestor shall be deemed as qualifying service for membership in the Society, where such ancestor, after such service, shall have failed to maintain an honorable record.

ARTICLE IV.

OFFICERS.

The Officers of this Society shall consist of a President, five Vice Presidents, a Secretary, a Registrar, a Treasurer, and an Executive Committee of nine members, who, with the foregoing Officers, shall form the Board of Direction, having the general management.

ARTICLE V.

PRESIDENT.

SECTION 1.—The President shall preside at all meetings of the Society and Board of Direction, and perform such other duties appertaining to the office as custom and parliamentary usage may permit.

VICE PRESIDENTS.

SEC. 2.—The Vice Presidents shall assist the President when requested by him to do so, and in the absence of the President shall preside, in the order of seniority of membership.

SECRETARY.

SEC. 3.—The Secretary shall keep a record of the proceedings of the meetings of the Society, the Executive Committee and the Board of Direction; collect all moneys due the Society and pay the same to the Treasurer; keep a ledger account with each member of the Society, and render a statement of a member's own account when he so requests it; notify members of all arrears, of the time and place of meetings; give notice of the funeral of a deceased member; conduct the correspondence of the Society; have charge of the seal, and at each annual meeting make a full report of all moneys received during the year and of the amount of arrearages due the Society. He shall turn over to his successor all of the books, papers, the seal, and any other property belonging to the Society; and perform such other duties as may be required of him from time to time by a vote of the Society or the Board of Direction.

TREASURER.

SEC. 4.—The Treasurer shall receive all moneys from the Secretary and receipt therefor; pay all orders signed by the President and attested by the Secretary: keep account of his receipts and expenditures, and make a full report of the same at the annual meeting and whenever the Board of Direction may require.

REGISTRAR.

SEC. 5.—The duties of the Registrar shall be to receive, file and keep of record, at Philadelphia, Pa., the names and residences of all officers and members, proofs upon which memberships have been granted; also declarations of members when admitted, of adherence to the Constitution; circular letters, and copies of all publications issued or received by the organization; countersign all certificates, if properly issued, and keep a record thereof, which shall always be open to the inspection of any member.

ARTICLE VI.

BOARD OF DIRECTION.

The officers, with the members of the Executive Committee, shall constitute the Board of Direction. They shall take cognizance of and control the affairs of the Society, regulate admissions to membership, fix salaries, make appropriations, arrange for meetings (other than annual), and celebrations, provide for relief in sickness, or burial in case of death, of any survivor of the War of 1812 or lineal descendant, whenever they may deem the case requires such action, receive delegations from similarly constituted Societies, or individuals of national reputation as patriots, and collect and provide for the due care and safety of books, documents, papers, portraits, reliques and such literature relating to the War of 1812 as may be acquired.

ARTICLE VII.

MEMBERSHIP.

SECTION 1.—Membership may be attained in this Society by persons of good moral character and habits, who are survivors of the War Veterans of 1812 or lineal descendants thereof (offering proof satisfactory to the Board of Direction), in the army, navy or privateer service.

SEC. 2.—Members should attend the stated meetings in each year, held in the old county building in Philadelphia, formerly occupied by the United States Congress (if not personally, by letter); reunions, when they occur, and on such national festivals where an invitation to participate as a body has been accepted by the Executive Committee.

SEC. 3.—Members shall be entitled to unite in all courtesies extended to this Society; to a certificate of membership; a distinctive badge (emblematic); a copy of the Constitution, and a membership button, on remission to the Secretary of the funds necessary to pay the costs thereof.

SEC. 4.—Whenever a member is desirous of withdrawing, by sending in his resignation and paying all dues registered against him, the Board of Directors shall have power to accept it; or, if a member wishes to attach himself to or organize a State branch, a transfer card will be issued, signed by the Board of Directors, when they are satisfied of the propriety of such action.

ARTICLE VIII.

SECTION 1.—This Society, seated and located in the city of Philadelphia, State of Pennsylvania and United States of America, shall have the right to warrant and constitute one branch of the Society of the War of 1812 in any State or Territory of the United States, whenever eighteen or more members of the Society, and residing in said State or Territory, shall apply for recognition and acceptance as such State branch, and shall pay into the treasury the sum of ten dollars. Such branch of the Society shall be designated by the name of the State or Territory affixed thereto.

Sec. 2.—Each branch Society of the War of 1812, when duly constituted may, subject to the purposes and provisions of this Constitution, regulate its own affairs, paying annually to the Treasurer of the general Society located in Philadelphia, the sum of twenty-five cents for each member in good standing on the roll of such branch Society, as reported on December 1st of each year.

Sec. 3.—Branch Societies shall conform to this organization in the number and character of officials, and shall have the right to send delegates to the meetings of this Society.

ARTICLE IX.

MEETINGS.

SECTION 1.—The annual meeting of the Society shall be held on the eighteenth day of February in each year to be held in Philadelphia, in the old Senate Chamber of the United States Congress (when practicable,) at which the election of Officers and Executive Committee for the ensuing year shall be held; all necessary business transacted, status of the affairs of the Society considered, and measures to promote its welfare adopted. Changes in the Constitution may then be proposed. Due notice of meetings shall be sent to all members. When the said date shall fall upon Sunday the meeting shall be held on the day subsequent.

SEC. 2.—Branch Societies shall, as far as convenient, arrange for holding their annual meetings at least one month prior to the annual meeting of this Society; and the respective Secretaries shall prepare full reports of the condition of their branch, elect representatives to the General Society's meeting, and recommend such amendments to the Constitution as time and experience may prove desirable.

Members of the General Society or any of the branches in good standing, shall have the privilege of attending the meetings or celebrations of any of these organizations, and enjoy all the rights of regular members, other than that of voting.

SEC. 3.—Any member moving to and locating his residence permanently in another State, shall, on his formal letter of request to the Secretary of the organization to which he is attached, receive a transfer card, setting forth his good standing therein, and the fact that he has satisfied his pecuniary obligations thereto, and this will enable him to apply for admission into the branch Society located in the State or Territory to which he has removed.

SEC. 4.—Absence will not exempt members from their obligations to the Society in which they are enrolled.

SEC. 5.—Resignation or voluntary withdrawal from membership, shall only become effective as a release from the obligations thereof, when consent has been given by the Society.

SEC. 6.—Every member when admitted shall declare upon honor, that he will conform to this Constitution and observe the rules and resolutions made in pursuance thereof, and endeavor to promote the purposes of this Society.

EXPULSION.

SEC. 7.—Any member found guilty of unlawful or improper conduct, after due notice and fair trial, may be expelled, according to rules made and provided for the purpose.

ARTICLE X.

AMENDMENTS.

No alteration or amendment shall be made to the Constitution until a written resolution to that effect be offered at a stated meeting of the Society, considered and approved by the Board of Directions, and at the next or some subsequent stated meeting receive the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present. Non-resident members to be furnished with written or printed copies of the proposed amendments, and to signify their approval or disapproval by letter within one month after such notice is given them. Such votes shall be recorded as if the member was actually present.

ARTICLE XII.

The insignia of the Society shall consist of the badge pendant from the ribbon by a ring of gold.

See frontispiece.

SYMBOLISM OF BADGE.

The Cross, emblematic of faith—faith in our country.—In the early part of this century, grave doubts were entertained as to the propriety of this young republic daring to assert its rights and protect its citizens against such a powerful nation as England, and the Act of Congress of June 19, A. D. 1812, in declaring war, was considered suicidal by a large number of our own people. So the more to be commended were those who risked their lives in the maintenance of the cause.

The Eagles.—The American bird flying over land and sea; four in number, North, South, East and West.

The Anchor, hope.—As many of the glorious victories of the War of 1812 were achieved by the Navy, prominence is given to the emblem of the gallant sailors who fought so nobly for their rights, to maintain which the war was waged.

General Jackson.—The hero of the Indian War and New Orleans, was a central figure in the War of 1812 as Washington was in the Revolution, Taylor in the Mexican War, and Grant in the Civil War.

The Bar.—The bar carries eighteen stars, representing the number of States in the Union in 1812.

The Ribbon.—The ribbon represents the predominant colors of the uniform worn during the War of 1812; black trimmings of the Artillery, and white trimmings of the infantry.

The watered ribbon further recognizes the great service of those who sailed on the bounding billows.

The insignia shall be worn by the members conspicuously on the left breast on all occasions, when assembled together for any stated purpose or celebrations. The officers and ex-officers of the Society shall wear the insignia suspended by a ribbon about the neck: it shall not be worn as an article of jewelry. On occasions other than the meetings for any stated purpose or celebration, members may wear a rosette or button, of the prescribed ribbon and pattern, in the upper buttonhole of the left lapel of the coat.

Such insignia should be returned to the Society on the resignation or expulsion of a member, but otherwise it shall be deemed an heirloom.

RESOLUTIONS.

SECTION 1.—Candidates for membership shall send their respective applications and documents, or other proofs of qualification for membership, through the Secretary to the Executive Committee, which is authorized to judge of the merits of an application in such manner as it may deem best. Upon a favorable decision of said Committee, and receipt of the initiation fee, applicants shall thereupon become members of this Society.

No person shall be admitted to membership unless he shall have first made written application and be approved by two members over their signatures.

SEC. 2.—The initiation fee shall be four dollars; the annual dues one dollar. Members admitted during the last quarter of any year shall be exempted from payment of dues for that year.

SEC. 3.—In order to form a fund and assist the unfortunate, all donations for the purpose which shall hereafter be paid the Society shall remain forever to the use of the Society; the interest only of which, if necessary, to be appropriated to relief.

SEC. 4.—The Society shall hold an annual meeting on the eighteenth day of February in every year, at which a general election of officers by ballot shall take place, except when such date shall fall on Sunday, in which case the meeting shall be held on the following day. In such election a majority of the ballots given for any office shall constitute a choice; but if on the first ballot no person shall receive such majority, then a second balloting shall take place, in which a plurality of the vote given for any office shall determine the choice therefor.

SEC. 5.—At all meetings of the Society twenty members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

SEC. 6.—The President, or in his absence one of the Vice Presidents, or in the absence of such, a Chairman pro tempore, shall preside at all meetings of the Society and of the Executive Committee, and shall exercise the usual functions of a presiding officer under parliamentary rules, subject to an appeal to the Society in proper cases under these rules.

The President shall be an ex-officio member of all Committees.

He shall, through the Secretary, call special meetings of the Society at such times as he may see fit. He shall also perform such other representative duties on behalf of the Society, either personally or by correspondence, as it, or the Board of Direction may find desirable or necessary, or as customarily appertain to his office, and he shall enforce a strict observance of the Constitution and standing resolutions.

In case of decease, resignation, neglect to serve or inability from any cause to act as President, the duties of the office shall devolve on the Senior Vice President present, until the vacancy caused by such decease, resignation or neglect to serve shall be filled, or until the inability shall cease.

SEC. 7.—The Secretary shall conduct the general correspondence of the Society and keep a record thereof. He shall notify all qualified and accepted candidates of their admission, and perform such other duties as the Society or the Executive Committee or his office may require of him. He shall have charge of the seal, and records of the Society other than those required to be deposited with the Registrar; and shall affix the seal to all properly authenticated certificates of membership, and transmit the same without delay to the member for whom it is issued, or to his proper representative. He, together with the presiding officer, shall certify all acts of the Society, and in proper cases authenticate them under seal. He shall have charge of all printing and publications directed by the Society or by the Executive Committee. He shall give due notice of the time and place of all meetings of the Society and of the Executive Committee, and shall attend the same. He shall keep fair and accurate accounts of all the proceedings and orders of the Society and of the Executive Committee; and shall give notice to the several officers of all votes, orders, resolves and proceedings of the Society or of the Executive Committee affecting them, or appertaining to their respective duties; and at the annual meeting, and oftener if required, shall report to the Society the names of the candidates who have been admitted to membership; and the names of those members whose resignations or voluntary withdrawals have been consented to and accepted; also the names of those members who have been expelled or dropped for non-payment of dues, or who have been received or dropped from the roll by transfer since the last report. An Assistant Secretary may be appointed by the President.

Sec. 8.—The Treasurer shall collect and keep the funds and accounts of the Society; and as often as these funds shall amount to one hundred dollars they shall be deposited in some Trust Company, in the City of Philadelphia, to the credit of the General Society of the War of 1812, and shall be drawn thence on the check of the Treasurer for the purposes of the Society only. Out of these funds he shall pay such sums as may be ordered by the Society or by the Executive Committee, and shall perform such other duties as the Society or Executive Committee or his office may require of him. He shall keep a true account of his receipts and payments, and at each annual meeting render the same to the Society, when a committee shall be appointed to audit his accounts. For the faithful performance of his duty he shall give such security as the Society or Executive Committee may from time to time require.

Sec. 9.—The President may annually designate a Chaplain and a Historian for the ensuing year from among the members. In like manner the President may fill any vacancy in either of these offices for the unexpired term. The Chaplain shall be a regularly ordained minister of a Christian denomination, and it shall be his duty to open and close all meetings with customary chaplaincy services, and perform such other duties as ordinarily pertain to such office.

The Historian shall keep a record of all historical and commemorative celebrations of the Society; and at every annual meeting he shall, if there be a necrological list for the year* then closing, submit the same with carefully prepared biographies of the deceased members.

Sec. 10.—The Board of Direction shall consist of eighteen, viz.: The President, five Vice Presidents, Secretary, Treasurer, Registrar and nine other members, who shall be elected at the annual business meeting in February, in every year, in the same manner as the officers of the Society.

They shall judge of the qualifications of every candidate who shall make proper application for admission to the Society, and have power to admit to membership, if found eligible.

They may arrange for commemorative celebrations of the Society; recommend plans to the Society promotive of its purpose, and digest and prepare business for its meetings.

They shall generally superintend the interests and have control and management of the affairs and funds of the Society.

They shall also perform such duties as may be provided by the Constitution, or required by any standing resolution of the Society; supervise all publications issued in its name; and may require the attendance of any member of the Society enrolled therein, or any committee thereof, at any meeting, for consultation and advice.

The Board of Direction shall meet at the call of the President, or upon the written request of any five members of the same. Nine of the Board of Direction shall be a quorum for the transaction of business. At every annual meeting in February they shall submit to the Society a general report of their proceedings during the year.

Sec. 11.—The Registrar shall have possession of all documents pertaining to the descent of members of the Society. He shall also keep an accurate register of members of the Society.

Sec. 12.—Upon the demand of five members at any meeting of the Society the ayes and nays shall be called on any pending motion or resolve which may be voted upon and duly entered on the minutes.

Sec. 13.—No person who may hereafter be enrolled as a member in this Society shall be permitted to continue in membership where proofs of claims of qualification by descent are found to be defective and insufficient to substantiate such claim. The Society must give a member thirty days notice to perfect such claim if not satisfied with the proofs furnished, and at any time thereafter may, on failure to comply, direct the Secretary to erase his name from the list of members, and such person shall thereupon cease to be a member. He, however, may appeal at the next business meeting of the Society, but shall not be returned to membership unless by a majority vote on such occasion, or at a subsequent meeting to which the consideration of the appeal may have been specifically postponed.

SEC.14.—The Board of Direction shall have power to expel any enrolled member of this Society, who, by conduct inconsistent with a gentleman and man of honor, or by opposition to the interests of the community in general, or of this Society in particular, may render himself unworthy to continue a member, or who shall persistently transgress or without good cause wilfully neglect the performance of any obligation enjoined by the Constitution or by any standing resolution of this Society.

Provided, that he shall have received at least ten days' notice of the complaint preferred against him, and of the time and place for hearing the same, and been afforded an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel.

Whenever the cause of expulsion shall not have involved turpitude nor moral unworthiness, any member thus expelled may, upon the recommendation of the Board of Direction, but not otherwise, be restored to membership by the Society at any time.

The Board of Direction shall also have power to drop from the roll the name of any enrolled member of the Society who shall be at least five years in arrears in the payment of dues, and who, on notice to pay the same, shall fail or neglect to do so within sixty days thereafter, and upon being dropped his membership shall cease; but he may be restored to membership at any time by the Board of Direction.

on his application therefor, and upon his payment of all such arrears and the annual dues from the date when he was dropped to the date of his restoration.

The Committee may also suspend any officer from the performance of his duties for cause, which proceeding must be reported to the Society and acted upon by it within thirty days, either by rescission of the suspension or removal of the suspended officer from office, otherwise the suspension shall cease.

Sec. 15.—Whenever an officer of this Society shall die, resign or neglect to serve, or be unable to properly perform the duties of his office by reason of absence, sickness or other cause, the President or acting President shall have power to appoint a member to such office pro-tempore, who shall act in such capacity until the Society shall elect a successor, or until the inability shall cease. Provided, however, That the office of President shall not thus be filled, when there shall be a Vice President to enter upon the duties. The officers shall, subject to these provisions, serve until their successors are elected and qualified to succeed them.

Sec. 16.—No resignation or voluntary withdrawal from membership shall become effective as a release from the obligations thereof unless consented to and accepted by the Board of Direction.

Sec. 17.—Notice of the death of any member shall be given by publication, and where practicable it shall be the duty of the members to attend the obsequies. Any member, upon being informed of the decease of a fellow member, shall promptly notify the Secretary of the fact.

SEC. 18.—No amendment to these Resolutions shall be made except upon the unanimous consent of a quorum of the Board of Direction, or of two-thirds of a quorum of the Society present at a regularly-called meeting.

SEC. 19.—It shall be the duty of every member to inform the Secretary by written communication of his place of residence and of any change thereof and of his post office address.

Service of any notice under the Constitution or Resolutions upon any member of the Society, addressed to him at his last recorded place of residence or post office address and forwarded by mail, shall be deemed sufficient service of such notice.
